JOHN KIDD | INTERIOR DESIGNER
713.961.1888

Interior designer John Kidd was first introduced to E2E when they invited him to a luncheon more than three years ago. He has collaborated with many of its members, coincidentally, since the inception of his interior design business in 1984. "We understand each other's styles, and this makes for an effortless relationship. I am always confident that their products will be exactly what I am looking for," says Kidd.

1 ANYTHING BUT PLAIN
The artists of Anything But Plain create finishes ranging from traditional and contemporary to patterned mirrors. The faux alligator finish (above) uses a multi-layered process to give walls or cabinets the visual and tactile quality of the real thing.

2 DAUPHIN SALES INC.
This spectacular German-crafted sliding door is going to be an inspiration for a set of doors that will divide a living room from a dining room. Dauphin's showroom features more than 50 different glass options from which to choose.

EMMETT PERRY & CO.

This hand-knotted rug's subtle tones and touch of silk for added elegance provide the perfect foundation for a room's décor. Its classic design makes for great versatility.

4 ELEGANT ADDITIONS
This beautiful pedestal sink and nickel mirror both have the tradition and elegance of the Claridge's hotel and are current and classic at the same time.

G&S CUSTOM DRAPERIES
This beautiful shade has the look of hand-woven glass or raw silk but is much more durable. It's perfect for Texas' climate.

JAMES CRAIG FURNISHINGS
This bench is a great blend of leather and Lucite. It's going to be used in a bedroom that needs a midcentury element but more updated.

SCHENCK & COMPANY
This parquet floor was made to match the reclaimed flooring. The craftsman perfectly achieved the look of reclaimed parquet using new flooring materials.

ILLUMINATIONS LIGHTING DESIGN
The fine art above the fireplace is beautifully punctuated by the lighting skills of Tom Kretschmar. It illustrates the perfect use of antique wall sconces and art lighting.

8

SUNBELT WINDOW FILM
Latest advancements in window film technology actually improve your view. A barely detectable glare-reducing film will also eliminate fade/damaging UV rays. The option of being able to obscure glass without sandblasting is fascinating.

9

THORNTREE
An amazing natural stone that resembles Italian Calacatta marble, with a subtle water brushed finish, offering the durability of quartz.
